LAVALLETTE, N.J., June 30.-- The first persons to be locked up in the new jail here were two women, and they were not only very unwilling prisoners but there were no charges against them. Nevertheless, they were locked up for three and a half hours. They were Mrs. Salem Moyer, wife of Chief of Police Moyer, and Mrs. Elizabeth Cilinski, wife of a Philadelphia police officer who was visiting Mrs. Moyer. Their enforced incarceration was brought about by their curiosity yesterday while visiting the new town hall. The jail is a part of the hall and the women entered the cells to inspect them. They were examining the heavy iron door and jokingly closed it when the lock snapped, making them prisoners. Their screams attracted Chief Moyer and several workmen, but they had no key. The contractor, Cilestine Bennett, had not delivered it. The latter could not be found, but a search of his home in Lakewood located the key and the women were liberated a shor | True | | CIB 794364,C1B 794365,C1B 794366,C1B 794367,C1B 794368,C1B 794369,C1B 794370 |
